the Trillium List

Textbooks approved by means of the provincial evaluation process will normally be retained in the Trillium List for a period of five school years following the date of their initial listing. Textbooks removed from the List at the end of this period may be used for two school years following the year in which their listing expired but may not be purchased in classroom sets during that time. School boards will be responsible for ensuring that expired titles are not used as textbooks in their schools after this two-year period.
